

Program Name:
Contact person:
Agency Name:
E-mail and phone number:
Date reviewed:			Type of Program reviewed:
<input type="radio"/> Prevention Services		<input type="radio"/> Addiction Treatment		<input type="radio"/> Mental Health Treatment
Reviewers names:
Review Criteria	Yes	No	*Tribal Best Practice Principles of Native American Programming Checklist	Yes	No
Longevity in Tribal History			Elders have approved project.
(Transparency)			Each person is accepted, nurtured and empowered.
Description on file			Program includes teaching of specific tribal worldview.
(Standardization)			Tribal language is integrated into programming whenever possible.
Cultural replication within Tribe or other Tribe			There is an emphasis on specific tribal holistic approaches including community, family, relatives, and children.
(Replication)			Activities are multigenerational.
Meets Tribal principles			Family and tribal histories are included and emphasized.
(Research)			Traditional teaching and leadership strategies are drawn from tribal practices.
Measurable Outcomes			Native peoples, especially local tribal members, are engaged in key in planning, leadership, and teaching roles.
(Outcomes)			Program addresses historical trauma.
Study Design			Tribal story telling is part of programming.
(Random selection, Control Group)			Tribal sovereignty plays role in the program.
Adherence to key elements			Young people are given meaningful leadership roles.
(Fidelity)			Program addresses risk and protective factors.
Accepted? Date of approval.			Programming includes Community-Based Participatory Research Approach (CBPR). List of community members involved with the review.
Other

*D. Asia(2007)--Modified with permission by Caroline M. Cruz (2008)